ALLIES CLOSE IN ON TURK FROM ALL SIDES

Three or Four Big Battles Expected Within the Week When Invaders Encounter Entrenched Positions.

REPORTED FALL OF ADRIANOPLE FORTS

Bulgaria Reports Declare Ottoman Soldiers Are Retiring in Wild Disorder Leaving Everything Behind.

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]

London, Oct. 21.—Three or perhaps four big battles probably will be begun within a few days, if not a few hours, on the territory of European Turkey. The armies of the Balkan allies have now crossed the frontier on all sides, while the Turks, as their opponents advance, are giving up the frontier posts and abandoning small and unimportant towns, falling back slowly into their strongly entrenched positions preparatory to giving battle there.

The Bulgarian army will, it is thought, be the first to strike because at its objective point the fortress of Adrianople, the main Turkish army is growing in strength. If the Bulgarians allow the Turks time, the Sultan's army will outgrow that of the invaders.

It was rumored today that two out of the outer forts of Adrianople had fallen into the Bulgarian hands and that the town of Kirk-Kilisseh had been captured, but there was no confirmation. The Greek army is resting after its capture of the Turkish town of Elazoun.

The grimmest fighting of the war is likely to occur out of sight of the main armies as some 4,000 Albanians are arming, and Greek and Bulgarian bands have taken to the hills, where they will engage in guerrilla warfare.

A column of Greek troops was reported today when it attacked the Komidja pass, which is held by the Turks, according to a news agency dispatch from Constantinople. Komidja pass is in the mountains on the Albanian frontier.

The seventh regiment of Serbian infantry is reported to have been virtually exterminated by the explosion of Turkish land mines after crossing the frontier into the district of Novi-pazar, according to a news agency dispatch from Belgrade.

BULGARIANS CLAIM

TURKS ARE ROUTED
Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 21.—Turkish warship today bombarded the Bulgarian fort of Kavarna. The enemy's house was destroyed and several shops and dwellings were damaged. Kavarna is a Bulgarian town on the Black sea, 28 miles northeast of Varna.

The advance posts of the Bulgarian army have spread to the immediate vicinity of the important strategic point of Kirk-Kilisseh, which is the headquarters of the Turkish third army corps. They also are in touch with the line of outposts around the fortress of Adrianople, where another Turkish army corps is stationed. The Bulgarians occupied today the village of Yakorunda, in the district of Razlog.

In a semi-official statement dealing with the progress of the campaign, it is stated:

"The Bulgarian troops are advancing in all directions, while the Turkish troops, stricken with panic, are retreating in disorder, abandoning their rifles, horsemen, ammunition and provisions."

"The Turkish peasants are leaving their homes, and in certain villages small Turkish children whose parents have disappeared, have been found wandering and are now being cared for by the Bulgarian soldiers."

"At Mustapha, the Bulgarians seized 10 tons of grain."

"Up to the present not a single Bulgarian soldier has been made prisoner by the Turks."

The Ottoman prisoners taken by the Bulgarians are being well treated. In order to preserve secrecy as to the movements of the army, the most positive orders have been issued to the Bulgarian officers and men that matters connected with the war and the military operations must not be referred to, even in private letters.

fifteen men killed. The Turkish casualties totaled two killed.

SERBIAN COLUMN

TAKES TURKISH TRENCHES
Belgrade, Oct. 21.—A Serbian column commanded by General Jankovic, captured the Turkish entrenchments at the village of Podujevo, on the road to Prishtina during the night. The Turks with their Armat auxiliaries retired toward the south, leaving their colors, much ammunition, eighty oxen and a large quantity of forage. Turkish prisoners taken by the Serbians say there were no regular Turkish troops engaged, the Ottoman force at Podujevo consisting of two provisional regiments of reserves and six companies of Armat tribesmen besides three batteries of artillery.

No details are given as to casualties.

ADVISED STRIKERS TO ACT LIKE WILD ANIMALS

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Salem, Mass., Oct. 21.—Arthur Giovannitti, one of the defendants on trial here with Joseph J. Egan and Joseph Caruso, charged with the murder of Anna Lopez, was quoted today as having told the strikers to "act like wild animals at night."

Michael J. Byron, one of the officers who arrested Giovannitti, was the witness who gave the testimony.

The defendant's attorneys today brought out the disclosure that Lawrence authorities issued permits to carry firearms to private citizens, the record of which had been burned.

Acting chief of Police Sullivan said he knew of private detectives being hired by the mill officials. Whether they were furnished arms by the mill owners he professed not to know.

DRY FARM CONGRESS IN SESSION AT LETHBRIDGE

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Lethbridge, Alberta, Oct. 21.—The seventh international dry farming exposition was officially opened at the new auditorium today by George H. Bulyea, lieutenant governor of Alberta. Addresses were delivered by Martin Burrell, dominion minister of agriculture; Lieutenant Governor Brown of Saskatchewan; Francis Macpherson, minister of agriculture of Alberta; and J. H. Crisfield, director of dominion experimental farms, Ottawa.

The auditorium will be a scene of general festivities tonight and addresses will be delivered by J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the Canadian Pacific railway; Senator Ing Laurovics, secretary of agriculture of Mexico; Hon. Leslie C. Newman, director of agriculture, Mysore, India; C. R. Brock, Oklahoma, and D. O. Lively of Portland, Ore.

JOHNSON TO FILL ROOSEVELT'S DATES

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Washington, Oct. 21.—Gov. Johnson arrived here from Chicago this morning and went to progressive headquarters to discuss his eastern itinerary with Senator Joseph M. Dixon. The governor expected to leave in the afternoon for Camden, N. J., where he will speak tonight. As far as practicable he will fill Colonel Roosevelt's speaking dates, but just what ones has not been agreed upon.

STATES IN COURT TO SETTLE WATER RIGHTS

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Washington, Oct. 21.—The supreme court today declined to dismiss the petition of the state of Wyoming for an injunction to prevent the state of Colorado and certain Colorado irrigation companies from diverting water from the Laramie river watershed. The court gave the state of Colorado thirty days to answer to the complaint.

TWO DOZEN BURNED BY EXPLODING AUTOMOBILE

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Petaluma, Cal., Oct. 21.—A carload of men from the town this morning burned in the explosion yesterday on the main street of an automobile gasoline tank. With the exception of James Mott, all the injured, including Mayor Zartman, will recover. Mott received a blast of burning gasoline full in the face and inhaled flames.

200 Denver Greeks to Fight

Denver, Colo., Oct. 21.—Two hundred of the four hundred Greeks who held a meeting in Denver, placed their names on the enlistment roll for service with their countrymen in the war against Turkey. More than half of them are trained soldiers, having served in the Greek army. They will join several hundred Greeks recruited from Utah and Wyoming, and the force is expected to enter at Denver the latter part of this week. At the meeting $2,500 was raised to be used in the war.

Register Now

With only five days remaining in which to register for the presidential election on November 5th, the registration at the four registration offices in Albuquerque is the lightest on record for any general election.

This is the first opportunity the people of New Mexico have had to vote at a presidential election. You cannot vote if you are not registered. Go to your precinct division registration office and register right now. See that your vote is protected.

TURKISH SUCCESSES ON MONTENEGRIN FRONTIER
Constantinople, Oct. 21.—Several Turkish successes on the frontier of Montenegro are reported in dispatches from Salonika.

Sharp fighting occurred in the districts of Grevita, Kitchik and Ogra-Kitchik, where the Montenegrins retreated with a loss of six officers and

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

TO THE PUBLIC:

The Albuquerque Morning Journal has printed a statement to the effect that the organization of the Taft-Jaffa Club, which will take place tomorrow, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, has been inspired by Frank A. Hubbell and is for the purpose of breaking down the present county Republican Committee and placing Mr. Hubbell in charge of that committee and of Republican affairs in Bernalillo county.

So that the people may not be misled and so that there may be a clear understanding in the minds of everyone as to the organization of the club, we desire to say that the above statement by the Albuquerque Morning Journal is absolutely false in every particular.

In behalf of ourselves and of a considerable number of other gentlemen who have been associated with us in the organization of this club, we desire to state that Mr. Hubbell has had absolutely no connection with its organization, directly or indirectly, that he has taken no part in any way in the conferences leading up to the organization and that the sole purpose of the Taft-Jaffa club is to aid in the carrying of Albuquerque and Bernalillo county for the Republican ticket.

We desire to state further that we and those associated with us in this organization are not actively interested in local and county politics and that our sole interest at this time comes from our conviction as business men that the election of Taft and Jaffa will be for the best interests and the continued prosperity of New Mexico. Any effort to connect us with any local political squabble, or any statement that we are associated with Mr. Hubbell or are seeking to foster the political aims of any man, other than the candidates upon the Republican national and state ticket, whether made by a newspaper or an individual, is false and a deliberate effort to becloud the issue.

PERKINS DECLARES PENROSE LIED ON FLOOR OF U. S. SENATE

Denounces as Unmitigated
Falsehood Statement That He Was Underwriter for Roosevelt $3,000,000 Campaign Fund.

JUSTIFIES NEW YORK LIFE'S CONTRIBUTION

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Washington, Oct. 21.—George W. Perkins, of New York, testified before the Clapp committee today that his total contributions to Col. Roosevelt's pre-convention campaign were $122,500.

The largest item was $32,000 to the Washington office.

Thomas Fortune Ryan was the first witness today before the Senate campaign contributions committee. Others scheduled to testify were George W. Perkins and Peter Hoban, James A. Campbell, Charles E. Droworth, Harry S. Calvert, John H. Nugent, H. R. Nesbitt and Robert Light, the latter seven called in connection with the Plinn-Penrose political controversy in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Ryan first told the committee that he shouldered $350,000 of the debts of the democratic national committee in 1904.

"Early in the campaign," he said, "I gave $50,000 to the fund, although I was opposed to the nomination of Judge Parker. I gave probably $50,000 in smaller contributions. When the end of the campaign was drawn near and it was quite apparent that Mr. Parker could not be elected, some of my friends came to me and told me the campaign would collapse unless the committee received financial assistance. I finally agreed in order to pay the party workers and preserve the integrity of the party, to furnish $350,000. This made a total of $450,000 I gave throughout the campaign. This was a personal contribution and did not represent any one except myself. I did not give the money to elect Parker. I merely wanted to preserve the democratic organization."

In reply to questions concerning the pre-convention campaign of 1912, Mr. Ryan said he had contributed between $75,000 and $80,000 to Governor Harmon's campaign and more than $50,000 to representative Underwood.

"When I came back from Europe in 1911 I made up my mind that the prospects of democratic success were very bright," he said.

"I thought any man except Mr. Bryan could be elected and was willing to aid any other man. He had led the party to defeat three times and I regarded him as the only cloud on the horizon."

George W. Perkins was the next witness. He gave his occupation as "retired workman."

Asked as to the campaign of 1904 Mr. Perkins said that he was asked by Treasurer Bliss to take a place as a member of a local committee in New York to aid in collecting funds for the campaign.

"I worked in New York," said Mr. Perkins. "With Mr. Bliss. There were similar committees in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Boston and Chicago."

Mr. Perkins flatly denied that he knew of any concerted political action by the financial interests in Wall street. He said that as he remembered it he had given $75,000 or $80,000 to the 1904 fund.

"Whenever Mr. Bliss would get short of funds would get low," he said, "I would make a contribution of $5,000 or $10,000."

Chairman Clapp asked of what contributions Mr. Perkins knew outside his own.

"I was connected with the New York Life Insurance Company and I know of that company's contributions," said he.

Mr. Perkins produced a long statement regarding the contributions of the New York Life Insurance company which the committee permitted him to read into the record.

The statement quoted at length from the testimony of the late President McCall of the New York Life Insurance company before the Armstrong investigation committee to show that the New York Life contribution was made to defeat the "free silver" movement of William J. Bryan.

It was argued that the money was given to insure the establishment of a gold standard for the protection of the policyholders of the company and that therefore it was proper to use the money of the policyholders.

The witness was particularly earnest in concluding the statement of belief of the time and have always since believed, that in this transaction Mr. McCall did exactly right; that he would have been untrue to his trust, weak and cowardly had he taken any other course. There is no question but that the thoroughly unscrupulous, dishonest attacks upon Mr. McCall by certain portions of the press, and the nomination of Bryan, brought about his untimely death; yet, it is a most significant fact that in all this criticism of both him and me not a single policyholder, so far as I am aware, out of the many thousands in New York Life, ever wrote a single letter or criticism or complaint of what we did, either Mr. McCall or myself. Without any law or regulation to guide us, impressed with the great responsibility, we were carrying, firmly believing that the democratic party was advocating financial theories which I had enacted into laws—would most seriously affect the assets of the policyholders, both Mr. McCall and I did our duty as we saw it."

Mr. Perkins said that for the insurance company he advanced to Mr. Bliss, $48,500 for which he was reimbursed by the company. Later when the insurance investigation began he returned the money to the company.

Mr. Perkins denounced as "unmitigated falsehood," the charge that he had underwritten the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign this year in the sum of $3,000,000. Rising from his chair, and shaking a clenched fist, Mr. Perkins shouted:

"Among the long list of unmitigated lies throughout this campaign, that statement perhaps ought to be at the head of the parade."

GERMAN AERONAUTS MEET TRAGIC DEATH IN CLOUDS

Hurled to Height of Fifteen Thousand Feet by Whirlwind Great Gas Bag Suddenly Explodes.

LIGHTNING RESPONSIBLE FOR DISASTER IS BELIEF

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Berlin, Oct. 21.—The announcement of the death yesterday of Lieutenant Hans Gericke, winner of last year's international balloon race in the United States, and loss of the team of German defenders in the race to be held from Stuttgart next Saturday, created a profound sensation here today.

He was thrown from his balloon at a height of three miles by the explosion of the gas bag, which is believed to have been struck by lightning. His aide, Lieutenant Stelzer, also was killed.

Gericke and Stelzer were making a trial flight to test the boat which they expected to use in two international races. Just above the town of Grossenbach, they met a thunderstorm which they attempted to avoid by rising above the disturbance. When a mile in the air the craft was caught in an eddy and became unmanageable. After a terrible rush straight up, it, the bag burst.

The shattered instruments which the balloonists carried on their flight, were examined today. The recording apparatus showed them riding at a height of 6,000 feet when they were suddenly hit by a vertical gust of wind which pushed them straight up with the violence of a hurricane to a height of more than 15,000 feet.

At this altitude the bag burst, either from the sudden change in pressure or, as is more likely, from being struck by lightning.

The balloon embodied all the latest ideas in gas bag construction and was regarded throughout Germany as the likely winner of the international cup in next Saturday's contest. Gericke and Stelzer had expected to try for an altitude record in the course of yesterday's flight and had equipped their craft with oxygen tanks and apparatus to assist them in enduring rarefied atmospheres.

Marshall Goes to San Francisco.
Ogden, Utah, Oct. 21.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, the democratic nominee for—democratic candidate for vice president, passed through here yesterday enroute to San Francisco, where he will select a site for the Indiana state building at the Panama Pacific exposition. Governor Marshall also is scheduled to deliver several speeches in the interest of his party while on the Pacific coast.

ROOSEVELT STARTS ON THOUSAND MILE JOURNEY HOME TO SAGAMORE HILL

Suffers Little Discomfort During Ordeal of Removal from Hospital to Pennsylvania Railroad Train.

PHYSICIANS PRONOUNCE CONDITION SATISFACTORY

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald]
Chicago, Oct. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt at 8:30 this morning left Chicago for Oyster Bay, aboard a train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

He awoke shortly before 6 o'clock and was given his morning sponge bath and rub-down. His breakfast consisted of bacon, three soft-boiled eggs, buttered toast and a pot of tea.

Mrs. Roosevelt had breakfast with her husband in his room.

Dr. John B. Murphy arrived at the hospital at 6:30 a. m. and with Dr. William H. McCarty, the house surgeon, dressed the colonel's wound for the last time before his departure for the east. At the same time a consultation was held at which Dr. Scully L. Terrell, the colonel's specialist; Dr. Arthur D. Houston, Dr. Alexander Lambert, the Roosevelt family physician, and Dr. John B. Golden, Dr. Murphy's assistant, were present.

At 7:19 a. m. the following official bulletin was issued:

"Pulse, temperature and respiration normal. Wound still discharges a little serum. There is less inflammation. Point bullet location is sensitive to pressure and bullet can now be distinctly located. General condition good."

Long before time to leave the hospital, Colonel Roosevelt was fully dressed. Over his street clothes he wore the heavy army overcoat he had on the evening he was shot. The hole in the right breast was not distinguishable at any great distance.

The colonel walked from his room to the wheel chair in the corridor. He was accompanied by Dr. John B. Murphy and Mrs. Roosevelt. On the way through the hospital the various rooms had their doors open and patients called a greeting to him and wished him a safe journey. Outside there was a large crowd of spectators who also shouted greetings. At the door he abandoned the chair and on the arm of Dr. Lambert took the few steps to the door of the ambulance. The start was immediate. In front of the ambulance was a large detail of motorcycle police, a squad of whom also immediately followed. Then came motor cars in which were Colonel Cecil Lyon and the remainder of the Roosevelt party. In other motor cars were many newspaper men and photographers.

Throughout the early morning, or ever since the time Colonel Roosevelt awoke, there was an air of expectancy in the corridors of the hospital. Preparations for departure had been made carefully. There was not the slightest hitch.

Just as he was being taken from the wheel chair at the hospital door the colonel bade good-bye to his two nurses. Night Nurse Margaret Fitzgerald was the first to shake his hand and to receive the famous Roosevelt smile. She was followed by Day Nurse Blanche Wolter.

The last thing that Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt did was to shake hands with and thank Mother Mary Raphael, the mother superior in charge of the hospital. The farewell was brief but affecting. Into the eyes of Mrs. Roosevelt a tear came while the eyes of the mother superior were suffused and she quickly turned her head, and then hurried into the building.

To avoid a crowd at the station Colonel Roosevelt boarded the train in the railroad yards at Twelfth street, half a mile away. The train then was backed into the terminal shed where the colonel's baggage was received.

In the party that entered Colonel Roosevelt's car were Mrs. Roosevelt, Ethel Roosevelt, Theodore Jr., Col. Cecil Lyon and Mrs. Lambert and Terrell.

Albuquerque Business Men Join in Movement Which Means Success of Prosperity Ticket in Bernalillo County.

REPUBLICANS UNITE FOR WHIRLWIND FINISH

Organization Received With Enthusiasm on Every Hand Despite Desperate Efforts of Democrats to Block It; Jaffa to Attend.

Albuquerque, N. M., October 21, 1912.

We, the undersigned, believing that the interests of New Mexico will be best served by the election of President William H. Taft, and by the election of congress of Hon. Nathan Jaffa, and desiring that Bernalillo county shall give a substantial majority for the Republican ticket on November 5th; and believing further that that may be accomplished only by the closing days of the campaign by the organization of a Taft-Jaffa club, hereby invite all Republicans and all others who favor the election of President Taft and Mr. Jaffa to attend and participate in a meeting to be held tomorrow, Tuesday, night at 7:30 o'clock, at 205 West Central avenue, N. E. Armijo building, for the purpose of organizing such a club.

The sole purpose of this club shall be to render every possible assistance to the state and county Republican committees in their endeavor to secure a majority for the Republican ticket in Bernalillo county. We urge all Republicans and all others who desire the election of President Taft and Mr. Jaffa to join with us in the organization of this club.

The Bernalillo County Taft-Jaffa club will be formally organized tomorrow, Tuesday night, at a meeting which will be held beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock, in the store room which has been reserved as club headquarters, at 205 West Central avenue, in the N. T. Armijo building.

The purpose of the new organization, according to the announcement of its promoters, is to aid the state and county Republican committees in their efforts to secure an overwhelming majority for Taft and Jaffa in Bernalillo county, in the election of November 5th. All those who desire the election of President Taft and of Mr. Jaffa as New Mexico's representative in congress, are urged to be present and participate.

The enthusiasm with which the new organization has been received today by Republicans and advocates of President Taft's re-election, indicates that the comparative inactivity of the early days of the campaign was not the result of lack of interest, but was largely due to lack of aggressive campaign leadership.
